

Camp in the field

Sunday eve Sept 28th 1862

My good darling wife

I have got at it, at last - I have been trying all day to get a chance to write you, but was kept busy at something until now - We are yet in the same place as when I wrote you last and my duties remain about the same - Perhaps I better tell you what I have been about to day, which will serve very well for most of the days since we came up here - first I am making my head quarters with co "B" I have got a good tent, and Gray and I occupy it - it is close by Capt Dillinghams tent, I will make a rough draft of the place and then you can see how it is better - Well I got up this morning at half past six - had a good wash, put on clean shirt and
